OUR VALUES

FROM THE CHAIRPERSON'S DESK

Dear friends and colleagues,

As the pandemic continues to ravage India and the world, we have seen the best in one another- our resilience, our courage and compassion. As I look back at the year gone by, I am filled with pride and gratitude for my colleagues. With complete disregard for their own safety and wellbeing they worked relentlessly to save the lives of innumerable children and their families during the second wave. This is the true character of each one of us and our movement.

During those difficult times, we raised an alarm about the plight of children across the country who had lost one or both their parents to COVID-19, and the resultant humanitarian crisis. Several state governments and the Government of India have responded to this grave crisis with the necessary urgency and announced immediate support to the orphan children. This indeed is appreciable, however we have a long way to go. We have to create an efficient and responsive system so that help and support are extended immediately to children as and when such crises arise in future.

I am proud of my son, Neeraj Murmu, the 21-year-old from Jharkhand who has been conferred with United Kingdom's prestigious Diana Award 2020. Freed from the darkest holes of the mica mines in Jharkhand by our Bal Mitra Gram™ activists, he now provides bridge education to over 150 children who were formerly working as child labour in mica mines.

The pandemic has also highlighted and exacerbated the existing inequalities and injustices that plague our society. In the absence of adequate safety nets, millions of marginalized children have been flung into severe distress and deprivation on account of COVID-19 pandemic. From the communities we work with, we sensed early that this would translate into a sharp increase in cases of child trafficking, child labour, child sexual abuse and other forms of exploitation. In August 2020, our survivor-led intelligence network – 'Mukti Caravan' – began its campaign on two-wheelers to raise awareness, and collect intelligence about trafficking and traffickers and facilitate timely government action. Hundreds of traffickers were identified across 1650 villages, preventing the potential trafficking of thousands of children across states. This has created a high-impact grassroots model of survivor led change at the village level.

Existing inequalities in access to education have increased further due to the pandemic. Now there is a heightened risk of children dropping out of schools and being forced to work to earn for their families or repay unfair debt. To deal with this imminent risk and for more effective prevention of exploitation of children, KSCF joined hands with HMD Global, who donated over 1600 new Nokia smartphones enabling over 7,200 children in Bal Mitra Gram™ (BMG™) and Bal Mitra Mandal (BMM) programmatic areas in Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Rajasthan, Karnataka and Madhya Pradesh to access online education during the lockdown. Not only these children were able to continue their own learning despite the lockdown, they also brought together children of their communities to share the learning. Young Sadguru, from Meerut, rescued 13 children from child labour and used his phone to jointly attend classes with other children so that they wouldn't have to drop out. I am extremely happy to see that compassion has been multiplied and magnified manifold by our children.

This year, 3201 child leaders were elected in our 291 Bal Mitra Gram™. I am delighted that half of the elected leaders are girls. There is nothing more powerful than the purity and passion of young people of India. I believe that these have begun the journey towards, transforming their communities, child leaders and building a truly great nation.

Our Justice for Every Child Campaign™, launched in March 2021 has already begun to not only raise awareness on child sexual abuse in our homes, schools and streets but has also galvanized the entire nation to extend legal, mental health and other support to victims of child sexual abuse, and their families. This has been critical in changing the narrative on the issue from shame to open and mainstream dialogue.

As we recognize our achievements from the previous years, we must also be cognizant of the uncertainties of the present times. Therefore, we must not let our guards down, and brace ourselves for new and unknown challenges. We have never shied away from the obstacles faced from time to time while fulfilling our commitment towards children. I am confident that we will continue to work for the cause of children with the same zeal and devotion and will emerge stronger than before.

KSCF AND COVID-19

The year 2020-21 started with the COVID-19 preventive lockdown. This led to job losses as also all round impoverishment. Millions of not-so-privileged people and their children suffered in silence.

The unorganized sector's workforce suddenly became much more vulnerable. Migrant labourers were stranded in unfamiliar surroundings, away from home. Their children and womenfolk became extremely susceptible to trafficking for forced labour, prostitution, forced beggary and illegal organ transplantation among several other crimes.

To provide immediate relief to those affected during the pandemic, KSCF's teams across the country sprung into action and started emergency support work by providing food and dry ration to those in need. They also took several steps to prevent trafficking of vulnerable children and ensured that children do not lose connection with education as schools closed down.

Nobel Peace Laureate Mr. Kailash Satyarthi, our founder wrote a letter to the Hon'ble Prime Minister about the heightened vulnerabilities of children for trafficking, forced labour, etc. He appealed to the Prime Minister to provide safety, food, shelter and medication to them during the lockdown. He also urged for their safe repatriation and mainstreaming into the society once the lockdown is over.

This appeal was followed by another letter to the Hon'ble Prime Minister and Chief Ministers of all states, requesting them to take immediate measures during the lockdown period for protection and rescue of vulnerable children, and children involved in labour. He wrote the second letter on being deeply moved by the plight of 12-year-old girl Jamlo Makdam, who was trafficked from her home in Chhattisgarh to work as a labourer in chili fields of Telangana. On imposition of the lockdown work in chilli fields shut down and she walked for 3 days to reach home, before succumbing to starvation and dehydration.

COVID-19 RESPONSE: MAJOR INITIATIVES

Ensuring meals, providing sanitation facilities and linking vulnerable families to government schemes

As a sudden food crisis emerged during the lockdown, KSCF started to work towards ensuring food supply for the most vulnerable people. Over 2.66 million meals were provided through dry ration distribution, 36 community kitchens were set up and 1,112 children were provided grocery compensating for the mid-day meals they missed out on as the schools shut down. 61,970 masks and 7,500 soaps were distributed at community level to prevent the spread of virus. Also, over 2,300 most marginalised families were linked with the government's pandemic relief schemes.

Online & Home Based Education

With schools closing down as a preventive measure against the pandemic, education moved to online platforms. While online classes continued for children of private schools in urban areas, children living in urban slums and rural India were left out from the purview of this new-age learning. Being out of school made these children more vulnerable to trafficking, child labour and other forms of abuse and exploitation. To bridge this gap in access to education between the children from well-to-do and poor families, various steps were taken:

- KSCF tied up with HMD Global, the sole licensee for Nokia phones, who donated over 1,600 brand new Nokia smartphones for children of urban slums and villages to link over 7,200 children of Bal Mitra Grams (BMG) and Bal Mitra Mandals (BMM) with online education in Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Rajasthan, Karnataka and Madhya Pradesh.
- To support the primary class students, the BMG Division introduced home-based education through worksheets. Worksheets were provided to 34,372 children studying in class 1-5 from Bal Mitra Grams (BMGs) in Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Karnataka, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh.
- BMG launched a programme in Noida and Lucknow districts of Uttar Pradesh, to work with children and communities living in suburban areas to create awareness among children, teachers and parents about the impact of pandemic on children, and promote child participation and leadership to lead collective action for combating disasters. The initiative also aimed at knowledge and capacity building of teachers for smooth functioning of schools during the pandemic and assisting schools to adopt online/digital teaching-learning methods. A total of 5,357 children studying in 22 schools were supported under the project.
- In collaboration with American Embassy School, the children of urban slums (BMMs) in Delhi were provided free Wi-Fi connection, enabling them to attend online classes. Over 10,000 children of BMMs attended regular online classes during the lockdown.
- In Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh, BMG launched Bal Mitra Shiksha (remedial class for children) to help the children continue education while schools remained closed. The members of Yuva Mandals (Youth Groups) conducted classes for 369 children.

Letter to Prime Minister

Child leaders from BMGs across the country wrote a letter to the Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, Mr. Narendra Modi, seeking his intervention to ensure their continued access to education. The children collected 15,267 signatures in support of the letter and sent the same to the Prime Minister's Office. Later, Ms. Smriti Irani, Union Minister for Women and Child Development, acknowledged the children's efforts at the Laureates and Leaders Fair Share for Children Summit organised by KSCF US in September 2020.

Child leaders sensitising communities

During the pandemic, Bal Panchayat (Children's Council) members of BMGs worked in their villages as agents of change. Children came up with efficient and innovative ways to increase community awareness on COVID-19 risks and ways to mitigate the spread of the virus by promoting wearing of masks, maintaining social distancing, emphasising on need of hygiene, stitching and distributing masks and making and putting up posters/notices requesting people to follow the protocols.

Survivor Led Intelligence Network – Mukti Caravan on Wheels

To combat the heightened risk of child trafficking, KSCF created and operationalised a survivor-led intelligence network on 11th August, 2020 to collect information about child trafficking and activities of traffickers in trafficking prone areas of Bihar and Jharkhand. The survivors forming the network, used bicycles and motorcycles, to reach out to people. The men in the network received support from the grassroots activists and volunteers, who joined them to track missing or trafficked children, report cases of trafficking, conduct door to door visits to identify children vulnerable to trafficking, collect data through surveys, ensure strengthening of the Village Child Protection Committees (VCPCs), and maintain liaison with the law enforcement agencies and the Child Protection Committees to create child labour and trafficking free villages.

Online Campaign to Keep Children Safe at Home

A campaign 'Keep Children Safe at Home' was launched by our founder Mr. Kailash Satyarthi on 4th April, 2020 i.e. soon after the declaration of lockdown. The campaign was a response to the heightened vulnerability of children to sexual abuse both physically and over the internet during the lockdown. Its objective was prevention of such abuse of children in their homes and neighbourhood. More than 4,000 individuals were directly reached through Whatsapp, emails and phone calls while 1.4 million people were engaged through online social media platforms like Twitter and Facebook. Under the campaign, more than 100 leading Civil Society Organizations(CSOs) across India joined hands to save children from abuse. Following the campaign.

COVID-19 India Alliance against Child Sexual Abuse and Child Trafficking

This alliance was formed in April 2020, in response to the urgent need for 'protection of children during COVID-19 pandemic'. The alliance brought together 132 NGOs from 14 states and 2 UTs, and women's groups, social activists, volunteers and journalists from across the country, who committed to work together to spread awareness against child sexual abuse and child trafficking.

National Consultation on Elimination of Child Labour

The online national consultation organised by KSCF aimed to bring together the various stakeholders responsible for child protection and child rights promotion to deliberate upon changes in strategies required, if any, during the COVID-19 pandemic, for the fulfilment of Sustainable Development Goal 8.7 i.e. eradication of child labour in all its form by 2025.

Fair Share for Children

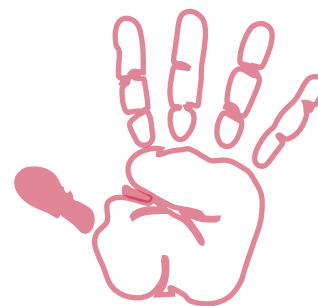

KSCF India partnered with KSCF US to organise the 3rd Laureates and Leaders for Children Summit - Fair Share for Children. The summit demanded 20% of relief funds to fight the pandemic to be specifically allocated to the world's 20% most marginalized children. The Summit focused on how and why the pandemic has exacerbated or changed the nature of the issue of child labour, slavery, trafficking, education, food security, and children on the move, and what solutions must be implemented to address these problem. Led by Mr. Satyarthi, the summit witnessed participation of laureates and leaders across the globe, including His Holiness The Dalai Lama, Prof. Muhammad Yunus - 2006 Nobel Peace Laureate, Mdm Leymah Gbowee - 2011 Nobel Peace Laureate, Mdm Jody Williams - 1997 Nobel Peace Laureate, Chief Economist of the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) - Dr. Maximo Torero Cullen, among others.

Justice for Every Child - Fair Share For Children

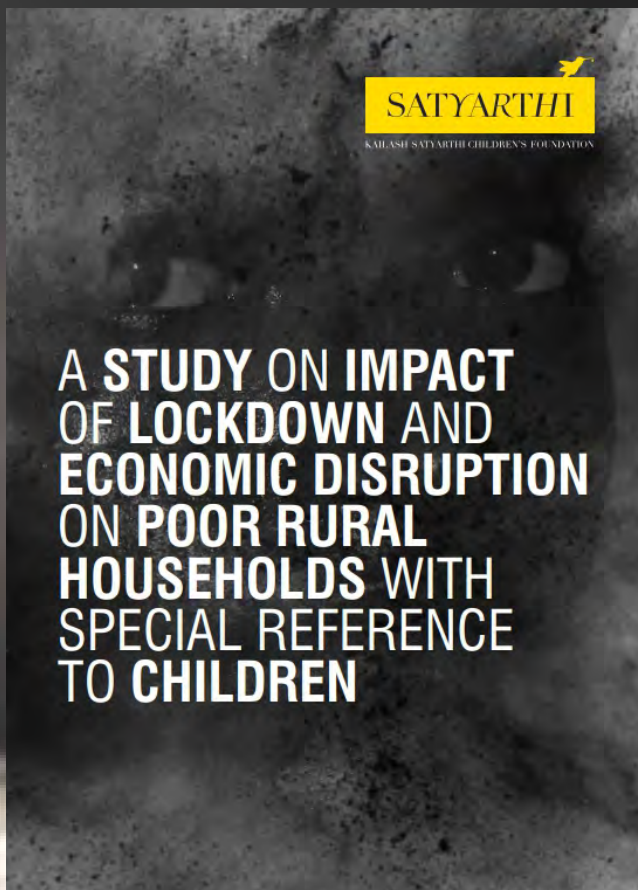

Launched under the aegis of 100 Million Campaign on July 30th - World Day Against Trafficking in Persons, the Justice for Every Child India campaign demanded 'Fair Share For Children' in the budgetary allocations of all the Government, social security and social welfare programmes. It also demanded more vigorous efforts for child protection during, and post the COVID-19 pandemic.

The focus of this campaign was on children living in villages, urban and semi-urban slums, child labourers, children on the move, and all such children who were experiencing both immediate and long-term distress and suffering. The 100 Million Campaign in India reached out to youth from 171 cities to demand a justice for every child. More than 50 youth-led and youth-engaging organisations were mobilized in solidarity for the campaign.

A study on impact of lockdown and economic disruption on poor rural households with special reference to children

The study, conducted by KSCF's Research Division, highlights the impact of lockdown on the household economy of people from the lowest economic strata and the subsequent increase in the vulnerabilities of women and children. The study is based on a primary survey carried out over two phases – an online survey conducted with 53 NGOs working with children and spread across the country, and a household survey of 245 respondents drawn from the rural areas of five States of India, viz, Assam, Bihar, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, and Rajasthan.

Key Findings

89% of the respondent NGOs were of the opinion that there was a very high likelihood of increase in trafficking of both adults and children for the purpose of labour in the post lockdown period

93% of the NGOs expected rise in incidence of child labour, while 64% believed that child marriages would increase post the lockdown

85% of the households reported having absolutely no source of income at the time of the survey, while 72% reported shortage of food during the lockdown

ORGANISATION OVERVIEW

Kailash Satyarthi Children's Foundation has been working to achieve its mission through three major interventions:

Programmes

Programmes are grassroot interventions designed on the basis of research and best practices aimed at building a child-friendly world. They are implemented independently, and with civil society partners. Partner civil society organisations are provided support and guidance so that they are able to implement the programmes independently. The Bal Mitra Gram™ (BMG™) and the Bal Mitra Mandal™ (BMM™) are our flagship programmes.

Campaigns

Campaigns are mass movements to engage, inspire and mobilise diverse stakeholder groups to enhance awareness about child rights and create a groundswell in the society on issues like child labour, trafficking and others, leading to liberation of children from slavery and exploitation. Campaigns may be both in person or online.

Satyarthi Global Policy Institute for Children (SGPIC)

SGPIC is an Institute which conducts research on issues relating to child protection, child health and child education to document the on ground situation, and identify systemic inadequacies and policy gaps so as to make recommendations for improvement in the legal and policy regime relating to child protection in the country. It also works as a centre for dialogue among the various state and non-state stakeholders in child rights protection and promotion. Strengthening of grassroots capacity through training, workshops, seminars and conferences on laws, policies, and extending practices relating to well-being of children are also among its key work areas.

BAL MITRA GRAM™

Bal Mitra Gram™ (BMG™) is a transformative grassroots solution for complex and inter-related problems and issues which adversely affect the protection and well-being of rural children. Highly cost-effective and sustainable, this model promotes the best interests of children through child-centric community development. It empowers children to take democratic action to secure their rights, and enables parents and other stakeholders to stand up for the rights of the children and build a protective community. A BMG™ thus creates a safety net around children to protect them from all forms of abuse and exploitation.

Objectives of the BMG™ programme are:

- Protect children from all forms of exploitation such as child labour, trafficking, slavery, child marriage, etc.
- Ensure that all children are enrolled in schools and receive quality education
- Incubate child leadership through formation of Bal Panchayats (Children Councils)
- Ensure that Bal Panchayats receive recognition from the Gram Panchayat (Village Council) so that the two councils work together on issues related to children
- Empower communities including women, youth, and marginalised/vulnerable sections of society to ensure child protection, child education, child health and nutrition

Currently, the BMG™ programme is being implemented in 6 Indian states - Jharkhand, Karnataka, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Bihar and Rajasthan - where 640 villages have been transformed into Child Friendly Villages (CFVs). Out of these, 349 villages after their transformation into CFVs have been handed over to the respective village communities for continuation of the programme. The BMG™ programme is presently under direct implementation by the KSCF in the remaining 291 villages.

2. Child leadership (Bal Panchayat/Children Council)
3. Community empowerment
4. Government partnerships
5. Water source development

EDUCATION

Engagement and sensitisation for school upgradation

While villages in Bihar and Jharkhand have schools for primary and upper primary level, lack of options for children to attain senior and senior secondary level education proves to be a roadblock for them in continuing studies. The nearest high schools are situated in nearby towns and lack of adequate public transport and the long-distance commutation often leads to children, especially girls, dropping out of education. The members of Bal Panchayats along with community leaders took the demand for upgradation of the existing primary and upper primary schools with the District Administration, Members of Legislative Assembly (MLAs), and State Government through letters and applications. The children also used media and public hearings conducted by the National Commission for Protection of the Child Rights (NCPCR) to highlight their demands. As a result of the persistent efforts of the children, Dr Neera Yadav, the sitting MLA of Koderma constituency and former Education Minister of Jharkhand, raised this issue in the Jharkhand State Assembly.

Withdrawal of child labourers from work

The collective action of the BMG™ team, stakeholders' groups, and Bal Panchayat members led to withdrawal of 545 children from the clutches of child labour across the country. These children were then enrolled in schools based on their age and requirement. A total of 387 children were enrolled in schools and 44 children were regularised. Enrollment of some children could not be done in the given financial year as a result of the countrywide lockdown imposed to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

CHILD LEADERSHIP

Formation of Bal Panchayat and Capacity Building

Formation of Bal Panchayats is an essential component of the BMG™ programme as it leads to building leadership and advocacy skills in children. The Bal panchayats work closely with the various community stakeholder groups and Gram Panchayats which ensures child friendly development in villages. In 2020-21, Bal Panchayat elections were held in 291 BMGs across the country, in which 3,201 child leaders were elected, out of which 1,600 were girls. The Bal Panchayat members submitted 34 applications to the Gram Panchayats and Local Administration to address issues relating to shortage of potable drinking water, school infrastructure, transportation challenges, and other pressing concerns for village children.

Darwaza Khatkhatao (Knock the Door) Campaign

In January 2021, KSCF organised a State Bal Panchayat meeting in Dhab village of Koderma, Jharkhand. In the meeting, the child leaders pointed out that there has been an increase in child labour, child marriages, trafficking in the villages since the beginning of the lockdown. The child leaders took the initiative to conduct an extensive fact-finding and awareness-building campaign in villages to gather information on cases of child labour, trafficking, child marriages and school dropouts. The 15-day 'Darwaza Khatkhatao, Gaon Jagao, Bachpan Bachao' (knock the door, awaken village, save childhood) campaign reached out to 113 villages and covered 9,040 households.

"During the Darwaza Khatkhatao Abhiyaan (knock the door campaign) we tried to gather information about the situation of children during the lockdown, as schools were closed for almost a year. We identified many cases of child labour and trafficking while interacting with the villagers. Following this, we worked with KSCF activists to withdraw children from exploitative situations."

Immediate outcomes of the campaign were:

- 410 child labourers identified and 271 child labourers withdrawn from work
- Of the 149 children trafficked from these villages, 14 returned home
- 5 imminent child marriages foiled

From prospective child brides to agents of change

16-year-old Meena and 15-year-old Nisha (names changed) are residents of Piprakoni village in Giridih district of Jharkhand. The girls would have been married off at a very young age if it was not for the child leaders of the BMGs. During the Darwaza Khatkhatao campaign child leaders came across Meena in a public meeting. Meena informed that she had lost her mother at a young age and as she grew up, her father tried to fix her marriage by paying dowry of INR 4,000 ($54) to the groom's family. She ran away from the house on getting the news but her father found her and got her engaged on the same day.

Hearing Meena's story, another girl Nisha also came forward and informed how her grandfather has also fixed her marriage. Both the girls requested intervention, following which the KSCF team met the families and convinced them to cancel the marriage and let the girls continue their education.

Meena and Nisha now work as change agents in their village, and with the help of community members, work towards eliminating child marriage.

COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT

A total of 933 community stakeholder groups including Yuva Mandal (Youth Group), Mahila Mandal (Women's Group) and BMGTM Advisory Committee are functional in the BMGs. They function as the vanguard of the BMGTM programme during and after the exit of KSCF from their villages. These stakeholder groups helped link 882 community members with the socio-economic welfare schemes. The Bal Panchayat members and stakeholder groups also mobilise communities, and engage with Gram Panchayat and local administration to seek resolution of problems faced by the villagers. Thus, the village communities develop agency and get empowered to solve the problems which they are faced with.

GOVERNMENT PARTNERSHIPS

Supporting Jharkhand Government to scale BMGTM programme

KSCF collaborated with the Government of Jharkhand and the district administration of Koderma and Giridih to extend the BMGTM programme to another 250 villages. KSCF is providing guidance and technical support to the Koderma and Giridih district administrations and the concerned Gram Panchayats to constitute, strengthen and sustain child protection systems such as Village Child Protection Committees (VCPCs), School Management Committees (SMCs), and promoting child participation and leadership through formation of Bal Panchayat, etc. in these 250 villages.

Public Dialogue in Koderma

KSCF organised a public dialogue, 'Safe Childhood-Safe Koderma' in collaboration with the Koderma district administration. It was attended by Koderma Deputy Commissioner, Mr Ramesh Gholap and other government officials. The public dialogue was an attempt to mobilise the administration, village panchayats, Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) and the community to protect children from trafficking, child labour and child marriage. At the end of the dialogue, a decision was taken to start special enrollment drives in the district for two months as soon as the schools reopen, and to link children in need with the Chief Minister Scholarship Scheme.

DEVELOPMENT/REJUVENATION OF WATER SOURCES

The scarcity of water resources in the interior villages of Bihar, Jharkhand, and Rajasthan is a huge impediment to the education of children, especially girls. Acute water shortage forces children to drop out of school as they are forced to fetch water from water sources situated far away to help their families. KSCF has adopted a strategy to develop/rejuvenate existing water sources in villages and also facilitate creation of new sources of drinking water leading to an improvement in the situation. The BMG™ team organised extensive awareness generation and strengthened communities to advocate for access to potable water.

- A total of 441 water sources were developed/rejuvenated in 49 BMGs across Rajasthan and Jharkhand, which benefited over 13,250 community members. KSCF installed and repaired hand pumps, water pipelines, water tanks, ponds, and developed rainwater harvesting systems in these villages. KSCF also mobilised support from the Gram Panchayats, Block Administration and Public Health Engineering Department (PHED) in the development and rejuvenation of sources of drinking water in these villages. Some of these works were carried out under MGNREGA, thus giving employment to villagers amid COVID-19 pandemic.
- The BMG™ team, Bal Panchayat members, and stakeholder groups planted more than 3,200 saplings in Jharkhand and Rajasthan BMGs.

OTHER INITIATIVES

- Menstrual hygiene awareness & women entrepreneurship: Menstrual Hygiene Management (MHM) is a major challenge among the adolescent girls and women in rural India. Adolescent girls many a time leave school as they attain puberty, and eventually end as child brides. To deal with this issue, Mahila Mandals of the BMGs were sensitised about the importance of menstrual hygiene and cleanliness.
To develop BMG™ women as entrepreneurs, KSCF started a new initiative in the BMGs of the Virat Nagar block, district Jaipur, to train women in making and distributing sanitary napkins. In the first phase 26 women were selected and trained on sanitary pad production using semi-automatic machines.
- Freedom week celebration and film festival: To celebrate the 6th anniversary of Nobel Peace Prize being conferred to Mr. Satyarthi, a film show was organized in the BMGs. Two films “Price of Free” and “Jhalki” based on child trafficking, child labour and missing children were telecast which helped the children and community to understand the gravity of exploitation and abuse faced by trafficked children.
- Setting up libraries: KSCF helped five schools of BMGs located in tribal areas of Karnataka in setting up libraries. This benefited over 2,000 children. Following this, reading groups were formed in each school to carry out group discussions and debates to facilitate development of holistic understanding of the respective subjects among the children. The Bal Panchayat members are the custodians of these libraries.

BAL MITRA MANDAL™

The Bal Mitra Mandal™ (BMM™) programme, launched in four slums of Delhi in early 2018, is an application of the principles of Bal Mitra Gram™ in the urban slum communities. It is a preventive, sustainable and holistic approach to child protection and development in urban slums, to ensure that every child therein is safe, free, healthy and educated.

In 2019-20, the BMM™ programme was implemented in 4 additional urban slums of Delhi, thus covering a total of 8 slums.

The communities where the programme is being implemented currently are - Sanjay Camp and Vivekanand Camp in Chanakyapuri; Inder Camp, Israil Camp, Nalla par and Shankar Camp in Rangpuri Pahadi, and Indra Kalyan Vihar 1 & 2 in Okhla.

A Campaign against Child trafficking was flagged off in Jharkhand by the Hon'ble Governor of Jharkhand, Smt. Droupadi Murmu

INTENSIVE AREA ACTION

KSCF's Intensive Area Action initiative aims at combating child trafficking in 100 most high-risk districts in India through preemptive and preventive action. The campaign launched in November 2020 targets identification of traffickers, increase in reporting of child trafficking cases, formation/strengthening of survivor-led intelligence-gathering network, and publication of data and evidence from national research on prevalence of child trafficking.

Under this campaign, 100 of the most high-risk districts for child trafficking in India have been identified based on 10 year data relating to child trafficking across the country. The multi-layered strategy of this campaign addresses gaps in on-ground intelligence, local child protection institutions, capacity of stakeholders, and gaps in evidence and policy, through the following strategic action:

1. Preventive & pre-emptive action in 100 most high-risk districts

- Creation of survivor-led intelligence network for identification of traffickers and syndicates, as well as real-time intelligence sharing for surveillance and rescue
- On-ground awareness generation and public dialogues on trafficking
- Operationalisation of Anti-Human Trafficking Units (AHTUs)
- Linking vulnerable families to the government social welfare and social security schemes

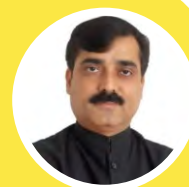

2. Additional preventive & pre-emptive action in 1,000 most vulnerable villages in 100 most high-risk districts

- Creation of District Task Forces to combat child trafficking
- Activation of Panchayats to form Village Child Protection Committees (VCPCs) & to maintain Village Migration Registers (VMRs) to ensure protection of all children, monitor movement of children from the village and that all children, particularly girls are in school

Survivor Led Intelligence Network – Mukti Caravan on Wheels

Survivor Led Intelligence Network (Mukti Caravan), is a flagship campaign to collect intelligence about traffickers, instances of trafficking, and to create awareness on violence against children, with a special focus on child trafficking. Led by former child labourers turned survivor leaders, the Mukti caravan spreads awareness through community interaction, street plays, folk songs, pamphlet distribution, and other activities. The Survivor Led Intelligence Network is playing a lead role in the successful implementation of the Intensive Area Action campaign. The intelligence network successfully collected information about over 800 traffickers active in their area of operation, and also collected information about trafficking taking place, leading to the rescue of children and arrest of traffickers. The actionable intelligence collected was shared with the police officers at the cutting-edge level on a real-time basis. In addition, letters were also sent to district police heads in districts of Jharkhand state sharing information about the traffickers active in their areas.

KSCF's Mukti Caravan is doing great work. We have to make Bihar child labour free. You should continue the work of raising awareness, the Bihar government will provide you with all the possible support. Bihar government will work actively to protect the rights of children.

Formation of VMRs and strengthening VCPCs

With help of the Survivor Lead Intelligence Network, the Campaign Division facilitated the creation of 73 Village Migration Registers (VMRs) at Panchayat level to prevent child trafficking. These registers contain complete information about the movement of children to and from the village, thus acting as a deterrent against trafficking of children.

The formation of Village Child Protection Committee (VCPC) under the Integrated Child Protection Scheme (ICPS) of the Government of India is a tool to provide protection to children against all forms of exploitation. Despite their usefulness, the VCPCs are yet to be formed in many villages. Further, even where these committees have been formed, they are non-functional. The Mukti Caravan is also working for the formation of the VCPCs where they do not exist and towards making them functional and effective where they exist but are non-functional. They are doing this in collaboration with the administration at district, block, panchayat and ward level. A total of 22 panchayat and ward level VCPCs were formed in 2020-21 with the efforts of Survivor Led Intelligence Network.

The Mukti Caravan team, in coordination with district administration officials, also ensured conversion of 20 police stations in 20 vulnerable districts of Bihar and Jharkhand into Child Friendly Police Stations.

Public Dialogues

To strengthen the safety network for children, KSCF closely worked with the district administration and judiciary. As a part of this effort, public dialogues were held across the country to create awareness about trafficking, and to identify gaps in trafficking related law enforcement processes in the various districts. A total of 146 public dialogues were organised. These public dialogues were attended by officials of district administration, law enforcement agencies, Civil Society Organisations, lawyers, journalists, policy makers, parents of trafficked children, women groups, anganwadi workers, etc. The dialogues were held in states of Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Telangana and Uttar Pradesh.

Wall writings

With the aim of spreading awareness against child trafficking and child labour in the villages and at community level, the members of Mukti Caravan, after obtaining prior permission, wrote slogans against exploitation of children on the walls of villages, towns and cities. A total of 688 wall writings were done in the villages of Bihar, Jharkhand and Rajasthan.

Launch of Campaign Against Child Trafficking

A Campaign against Child trafficking was flagged off in Jharkhand by the Hon'ble Governor of Jharkhand, Smt. Droupadi Murmu on March 24, 2021. Appreciating the work of Nobel Peace Laureate Mr. Kailash Satyarthi, Hon'ble Governor said that Mr. Satyarthi is famous for protecting the interests of children not only in India but all over the world. The awareness drive has helped in identification of traffickers and child labourers and has also led to the rescue of children with the help of local police and administration.

Demanding Safe and Educated Bihar for Children

In Bihar, survivor leaders of Mukti Caravan presented their memorandum of demands relating to child protection to the candidates of the 17th Bihar Legislative Assembly Election, 2020. They appealed to all the candidates to take an oath to make Bihar a child friendly state. They also gave a clarion call to the voters of the state to 'choose only those candidates who prioritize children and who resolve to work for their education and make Bihar safe for them'. Some of the major demands of the campaign were making education free till class 12, formation and maintenance of VMRs, provide education and rehabilitation to child labour survivors of the state, and expeditious disposal of court trials of cases of child sexual abuse.

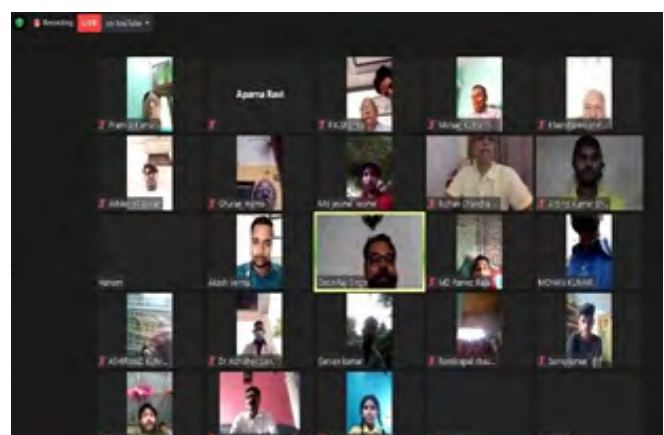

DABUNG GIRL COMICS

KSCF partnered with Deeper Learning Innovations Private Limited (DLIPL) for publication of a special edition of a comic book on Child Protection. The comic book depicted the fearless superhero character Dabung Girl, fighting the societal evils of Child Sexual Abuse, Child Trafficking and Child Marriage. The first comic book in the series named 'Dabung Girl and Muskan's Smile', a story condemning child sexual abuse, was launched online on 23rd July, 2020.

WEBINARS ON CHILD PROTECTION

'Let's E-Connect: Every Child Matters', a series of 10 webinars on child protection was conducted with 447 participants including principals and teachers of schools and colleges, parents, volunteers, working professionals and experts. A total of 17 representatives of different radio channels participated in the webinars, including Radio Jockeys from channels like My FM (Bhopal), Radio City (Pune), Fever (Lucknow), FM Tadka (Jaipur) and Your FM (Sangoli).

THE SATYARTHI GLOBAL POLICY INSTITUTE FOR CHILDREN

THE SATYARTHI GLOBAL POLICY INSTITUTE FOR CHILDREN

The Satyarthi Global Policy Institute for Children (SGPIC) has been established by the KSCF to carry out research, training & capacity building and to share information, disseminate best practices relating to child protection and child rights promotion among the state and non-state stakeholders in child protection. In due course, SGPIC may also offer academic courses to build a cadre of experts in various knowledge domains relating to the protection and well-being of children.

At the core of the SGPIC are the four universal values that are the guiding force of Mr. Kailash Satyarthi and all his social initiatives; justice, equality, peace and compassion. The various objectives of the Institute are as follows:

- Conduct evidence-based research on identified policy gaps related to child well-being
- Strengthen policy regime relating to child rights through support to governments and other policy-making bodies
- Strengthen grassroots capacity through replication of best practices, training and capacity building, seminars, conferences, workshops etc.
- Act as an incubation centre for new ideas and interventions relating to child rights protection and promotion
- Conduct academic courses of varying durations on child protection, child education, child health, nutrition, and other issues relating to children

These objectives are planned to be achieved through four vibrant and symbiotic centers of operation:

Centre for Policy and Research

Centre for Innovation and Incubation

Centre for Dialogue, Learning and Capacity Building

Centre for Academics

'Bondage: Human Rights and Development', a book written by Retd. IAS officer, Dr. Lakshmidhar Mishra was published under the banner of Satyarthi Global Policy Institute for Children. The book was released in an online programme attended by Mr. Kailash Satyarthi; Member of National Human Rights Commission Hon'ble Justice Mr. PC Pant; author Dr. LD Mishra and other dignitaries.

The book exposes the shortcomings and very often the collision of the official machinery that enables the pernicious and inhuman practice of bonded labour and all the indignities that go with it. It brings out the grim details of the situation and the individual aberrations, institutional infirmities and the bane of a corrupt and insensitive governing process.

The book, written in a Q&A format provides answers to as many as 70 questions related to various aspects of child labour and bonded labour.

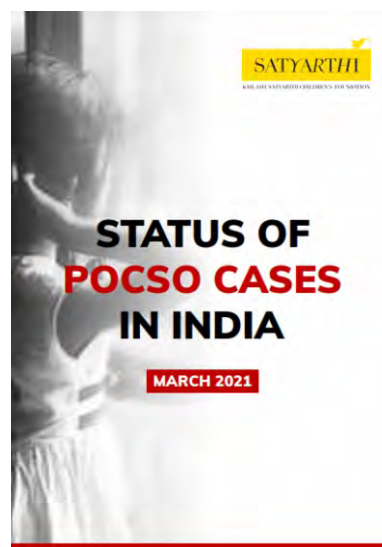

RESEARCH

1. Status of disposal of trials of POCSO cases in India

This paper relates to the status of disposal of the trial of cases registered under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 (POCSO) for the years 2017, 2018 and 2019.

Findings:

- Registration of POCSO cases increased by 45%, from 32,608 in 2017 to 47,335 in 2019.
- The cases registered under POCSO Act have increased over time. In 2017, the share of POCSO cases to the total crime committed against children was 25%, which increased to 28% in 2018 and further to 32% in 2019.
- Investigation of only 70% of the cases registered under the POCSO Act during 2019 was completed by the police in that year. Thus, 30% of the total number of pending investigation POCSO cases at the beginning of 2019 and the cases registered during 2019, were pending investigation at the beginning of 2020. The number of pending investigation cases under POCSO went up from 17,764 at the beginning of 2019 to 19,392 at the end of the same year i.e. the number of pending investigation cases under POCSO went up by approximately 10% during 2019.
- In 2019, trials of only 10.8% of 1,49,872 pending court cases were completed. Thus, 90% of the trials of cases under POCSO remained pending at the end of 2019. The number of pending trial POCSO cases at the end of 2019 was 1,33,068 i.e. there had been a marginal reduction in the pendency of POCSO trials during 2019.

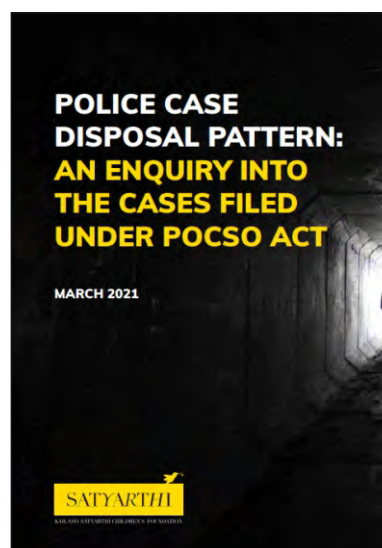

2. Police case disposal pattern: an enquiry into the cases filed under POCSO Act Timely and thorough investigation and expeditious filing of chargesheets are the most crucial elements of the justice delivery system. This paper analysed the pattern of disposal of investigation of POCSO cases by the police.

Findings:

- Approximately 7% of the total number of POCSO cases whose investigations were finalized by the police in 2019 were canceled or closed on various grounds. Out of the closed cases, approximately 40% of the cases were closed despite the allegations mentioned in the FIR having been found to be true. The reasons cited for closure were 'cases true but insufficient evidence, or accused untraced, or no clue'. Thus, in a number of POCSO cases the accused went scot-free apparently due to inadequate efforts on the part of the police.

3. Human Trafficking in India: A Situational Analysis

Despite a number of initiatives by the law enforcement agencies to combat human trafficking in the recent past, the issue of trafficking of children continues to be unabated and poses a serious challenge. A large number of cases of trafficking of children go unreported. Further, out of the very few cases of trafficking which are registered and taken up for investigation only about 70-80% are chargesheeted. Further, of the total number of trials of trafficking cases finalised in a given year only about 20-30% of the cases end up in conviction. This paper presented the trends and various dimensions of human trafficking in India.

Findings:

- Human trafficking cases decreased marginally by 0.8%, from 2,278 in 2018 to 2,260 in 2019. The top five states reporting higher human trafficking cases in 2019 were Maharashtra (282), Andhra Pradesh (245), Assam (201), Kerala (180), and Jharkhand (177).
- The total number of victims of human trafficking increased by 14.3%, from 5,788 in 2018 to 6616 in 2019, while total child victims of trafficking increased only by 3%, from 2,834 to 2,914 during the same period.
- The top six states reporting trafficking of children were Rajasthan (653), Delhi (536), Bihar (294), Odisha (202), Kerala (177), and Jharkhand (172).
- In 2019, out of the total number of victims of trafficking, 44% were children. Sexual exploitation for prostitution (32%) and forced labour (17%) were the two main purposes of human trafficking.

4. Functioning and Financing of FTSCs: A State-wise Analysis

This paper analyses the functioning of the Fast Track Special Courts (FTSCs), including Exclusive POCSO Courts (EPCs) established in compliance of the directions of the Supreme Court of India for expeditious disposal of trials of rape and POCSO Act cases.

Findings:

- As on January 31, 2021, there were only 616 FTSCs, including 330 EPCs functional across 25 states/UTs of India as against the sanctioned 1,023 FTSCs, including 389 EPCs. Thus, only 60% of the sanctioned FTSCs, EPCs had become functional by January 31, 2021.
- Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Haryana, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, and Uttar Pradesh are the only states where all the sanctioned FTSCs have become functional.
- As on January 31, 2021, a total central share of Rs.274.97 crore (140 crore in 2019-20 and 134.97 crore in 2020-21) had been released to 25 States/UTs for setting up FTSCs, including EPCs. Thus, 58% of the sanctioned Central support amount of Rs.474 crore had been released in favour of the states i.e. the release Central share of funds was in consonance with the proportion of courts which had become functional.

5. Estimation of minimum cost required by Centre and States/UTs to run service delivery structures under child protection services

The objective of this paper was to estimate the minimum budget required for the Child Protection Services (CPS), earlier known as Integrated Child Protection Scheme (ICPS), under the umbrella scheme 'Integrated Child Development Services, for the Financial Year (FY) 2021-22 to run efficiently the existing service delivery structures and establishments.

6. Utilization of Nirbhaya Fund: A review of status after one year of the release of KSCF Report regarding the same

In December 2019, Kailash Satyarthi Children's Foundation (KSCF) had carried out an assessment of the utilisation of the Nirbhaya Fund, a non-lapsable corpus fund to enhance the safety and security of women in the country and found it grossly underutilised across the states. This paper analysed the impact of the KSCF report on fund utilisation one year after the release of the report and the subsequent advocacy efforts made for its increase.

Findings:

- Utilisation of Nirbhaya Fund across the states has increased from a meagre 11% in 2019 to 63% in 2020. The allocation has also increased by INR 760 Cr, from INR 2,265 Cr in 2019 to INR 3024 Cr in 2020.
- Tamil Nadu ranks at the top as its utilisation percentage has gone up from 3% (2019) to 88% (2020).
- Maharashtra, which had not spent a single rupee in 2019, has also shown remarkable improvement. Its utilisation of Nirbhaya Fund has increased from 0% in 2019 to 61% in 2020.
- Overall, there has been a substantial improvement in utilisation of Nirbhaya Fund in all the states/UTs of the country.

7. Government's commitment towards children in 2021-22

This report critically analyses the Union Budget for the Financial Year (FY) 2021-22 across major components of welfare of children under Statement-12.

Findings:

- Budget allocation for the welfare of children has reduced to 2.46% of the total budget in 2021-22 from 3.16% in 2020-21. In absolute terms, allocation for the welfare of children has decreased from INR 96,042 Cr. in 2020-21 to INR 85,713 Cr. in 2021-22 i.e. by 10.76%. Deflated for inflation the actual allocation will be even lesser.

- In the current budget the Child Protection Services have been subsumed in the Vatsalya Mission. The allocation for the Vatsalya Mission stands at INR 900 Cr against the allocation of INR 1500 Cr for CPS alone in FY 2020-21. This reduction is likely to have an adverse impact on the implementation of the various child protection services being provided by the State.
- Budget allocation for 'Samagra Shiksha' has also decreased by 20% (from INR 38,751 Cr. in FY 2020-21 to INR 31,050 Cr in FY 2021-22). This is particularly disappointing amidst a crisis that has affected child education, particularly in terms of both access and quality of education.

Research Commons

KSCF has designed and launched a web-based global platform 'Research Commons on Children' (<http://researchcommonsonchildren.com/>) to host all evidence-based information, including but not limited to research papers both published and unpublished, articles, monographs and blogs about child protection, child education and child health & nutrition.

The Research Commons on Children is a web-portal on which a multilateral dialogue can be initiated around the discourse on children through knowledge sharing, and two-way interactions. This will encapsulate research reports, articles, book reviews, and other content on children. It also has a separate space for child-friendly content in the form of videos, animations, IEC material on children, which will be consumed by children themselves. The Research Commons on Children is envisioned as an open portal for readers and contributors to create awareness and raise the discourse on issues relating to children by enabling a multidimensional, interdisciplinary and free-flowing dialogue among the stakeholders, thinkers, researchers and academicians. It aims at propagating plurality of thoughts, ideas and action. It is a platform that embraces the presence of multiple perspectives, opinions, and research methodologies and enables its readers to arrive at their own opinions/conclusions.

University Collaborations

KSCF has also been working to establish institutional partnerships with Universities and other academic & research institutions to strengthen the child protection ecosystem in the country. The objective of these partnerships is to conduct research and dissemination of knowledge on issues relating to children as also academic programmes. Training & capacity building of stakeholders, youths, etc. is another objective of these partnerships. KSCF presently has academic partnerships with 7 universities. In the period under report not much work could be done through these partnerships on account of the disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. However, during the last quarter of the year there were discussions with Amity University Gurgaon, Haryana and Vignan's Foundation for Science, Technology and Research, Guntur, Andhra Pradesh with regard to plan activities to take the relationship forward.

The 'Karnataka State Child Protection Policy' (KSCPP) was drafted in compliance with the order passed by Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka in W.P.No.49954/2019, dated 22/07/2020. The policy aims to set guidelines for the Government of Karnataka to take proactive and affirmative measures in the form of child centric legislations, policies, institutions, and procedures to promote and safeguard the rights of all children, especially marginalised and disadvantaged children. It is expected that these changes will enable children to live and grow with equality, dignity, security and freedom, and the barriers, if any, to children enjoying their rights and freedoms shall all be removed. The policy is uploaded at the website of ICPS, Karnataka for public comments and is under consideration with the State Government of Karnataka.

TRAINING AND CAPACITY BUILDING

At KSCF, we believe that for effective child protection, all the state and non-state stakeholders must always remain on a learning curve. The Foundation therefore has been working assiduously to build the capacities of law enforcement agencies, government departments and civil society organisations dealing with issues relating to child protection and child rights promotion. We firmly believe that unless the various functionaries are aware of their roles, functions and powers, care and protection of children cannot be ensured. Training and capacity building play an important role not only in strengthening knowledge, but also in developing sensitivity, in providing a platform to share challenges and concerns, and find solutions to them. The participants of these training workshops also get an opportunity to share good practices which can be replicated and scaled up.

The period from April 2020 to March 2021 witnessed an unprecedented training activity. The Training Division converted the challenge posed by the COVID-19 pandemic into an opportunity and conducted training programmes, workshops and seminars far in excess to those conducted during the preceding year. A total of 195 training workshops were conducted, mostly digitally, wherein 20,731 child protection stakeholders were trained such as the members of the judiciary, police, Child Welfare Committees, Juvenile Justice Board, District Child Protection Units, Child Care Institutions, NGOs, teachers, parents and children across the country.

The table below gives the classification of the stakeholders trained during the reporting period. LEA refers to those workshops where a mixed group of all law enforcement agencies participated, Police refers to those workshops where only police officials were trained and 'internal' refers to workshops held for Associates of KSCF and its partner organisations.

SCHOLARSHIPS

FREEDOM FELLOWS EDUCATION FUND

Freedom Fellows Scholarship for Children (FFSC) is a scholarship offered by KSCF to children rescued from forced labour, trafficking, sexual abuse and other forms of violence, under Freedom Fellows Education Fund. The scholarship is provided to children outside the ambit of The Right to Education Act i.e. above the age of 14 years, helping them complete higher and college education. In 2020-21 this scholarship was given to 56 children and youth to help them to pursue their education and achieve their dream. During this period, 3 FFSC Fellows completed graduation, 1 completed post-graduation, and 1 Fellow completed a diploma course.

From preventing child marriage to pursuing a course in nursing 17-year-old Priyanka (name changed), a resident of Agra district of Uttar Pradesh is one of the beneficiaries of Freedom Fellows Scholarship for Children. She lost her mother at a very young age and lives with her father and 6 siblings. Being the youngest of all siblings, Priyanka saw her elder sisters getting married at a young age, and their suffering thereafter. However, when it was her turn to get married after completing class 12, she put her foot down and with the help of local Bal Panchayat members, managed to get her wedding cancelled. She also managed to prevent two other child marriages in her village.

Currently, Priyanka is pursuing a course in nursing with support of the FFSC. She says, “My mother died due to lack of medical facilities. I do not want anyone else to suffer the same fate; I have therefore enrolled in a nursing course, I wish to help as many people as possible.”

SURAKSHIT BACHPAN FUND

Surakshit Bachpan Fund was set up to provide assistance to survivors of child sexual abuse and child rape. Immediate medical, legal, educational and rehabilitation assistance is provided to the survivors through this fund.

Nobel Peace Laureate Mr. Kailash Satyarthi and his wife, Mrs. Sumedha Kailash were invited to participate in the popular TV quiz show – “Kaun Banega Crorepati” hosted by actor Amitabh Bachchan. They won INR 50 lakhs, and donated this entire amount of 50 lakhs as seed money to set up Surakshit Bachpan Fund.

At present 6 children are being provided support through this fund.

WAY FORWARD

In 2020-21, we at KSCF stepped outside our scope of work to provide immediate care and support to those in need as the COVID-19 pandemic hit. Meals were provided to those who could not afford them during the lockdown and the less privileged children were linked to digital education to ensure that they continue education even when the schools remained closed. The Justice for Every Child Campaign was launched to provide support to child victims of sexual abuse, and the scope of ongoing programmes and campaigns was expanded. As we enter into the financial year 2021-22, KSCF aims to further increase its scope of work to reach out to more children and work towards the protection and promotion of their rights.

As the second wave of COVID-19 hit the country by the end of March 2021, KSCF started procuring oxygen concentrators, medical supplies, and other necessities to ensure that help reaches the needy on time. In 2021-22 these oxygen concentrators and medical supply kits will be distributed in child care institutions, villages, and urban slums across the country to prevent the spread of the virus and to provide immediate medical assistance.

More phones will be provided in villages and urban slums to link thousands of other children to digital education in the coming year.

On-ground work for Justice for Every Child campaign will commence. Cases of child sexual abuse will be identified and immediate care and support, including legal and mental health support will be provided to these children and their families.

The Bal Mitra Gram will be expanded to at least 200 more villages. This will include direct implementation of the programme, along with providing technical support to villages neighbouring to those where the programme is running.

The Bal Mitra Mandal programme will be introduced in the urban slums of Pune district of Maharashtra.

AWARDS AND ACCOLADES

DIANA AWARD 2020

21-year-old Neeraj Murmu of Jharkhand was conferred with United Kingdom's prestigious Diana Award 2020.

Crawling through the hazardous tunnels of mica mines in Jharkhand, Neeraj, as a little child, risked his life every single day to collect mica scrap which earned him a paltry sum of INR 5 per kilogram. He, along with other children, was withdrawn from Mica Mining in 2011, after Bal Mitra Gram intervention began in his village Dhuliakaram, situated in Tisri block of Giridih district in Jharkhand. Neeraj was enrolled in the local primary school, which helped him realise the importance of education, and he vowed to eliminate child labour so that other children do not have to face the same fate as his.

Influenced by the work and efforts of our founder, Nobel Peace Laureate Mr. Kailash Satyarthi, Neeraj established 'Kailash Satyarthi Public School' in his village in 2016. This bridge school is presently preparing around 150 school dropout children to be reintegrated to mainstream schooling.

Recognising his selfless work towards the upliftment of his village and the local community, Neeraj was conferred with the Diana Award on July 1, 2020.
